

The Seal Hunt

(Lyrics and music: Jean Lapointe)

*Original text in French.
Unofficial translation.*

When I see Miss Brigitte Bardot
Pamela, Sir Paul McCartney
On TV, in the newspapers
I start to see red
They are against the seal hunt
They do it to do good
And what really gets me
Is that they are puppets on a string

Others make money hand over fist
On the backs of Magdalen Islanders who make their living from the seal hunt while suffering from the lies

The HSUS* made a profit
In 2003 of
$123 million USD
And they didn't share it with anyone else

(Chorus)
The seals
Miss Brigitte Bardot
Sir Paul McCartney
Pamela jojo

Not one pet shop
No helping animals
They kept the profit
For themselves, those dirty pigs

Who gains
From these lying ads
Where is the profit hidden
From this outrageous exploitation

It's hidden in banks
In foreign banks, of course
Only money talks and Makes all these idiots dance

The hunt for the white baby seals
No longer even exists
There has been a ban
For 23 years, everybody knows

To play on the public's heartstrings
They use the same old photo
That brings in so much money
To these so-called heroes

(Chorus)
The seals
Miss Brigitte Bardot
Sir Paul McCartney
Pamela jojo

I don't like to see
Seals killed either
But it's even worse in slaughterhouses
Force-feeding, henhouses

This little song
As a small voice of protest
Could serve as an opportunity
For open discussion

(Chorus)
The seals
Miss Brigitte Bardot
Sir Paul McCartney
Pamela jojo
